Discover Scotland

Glide through a land of unspoilt beauty, past brooding glens and mirror-still lochs. Stop to explore castles, distilleries and Scotland's rich heritage

It's the kingdom of William Wallace and Robert the Bruce; the home of tartan and kilts, bagpipes and ceilidhs. Yet there's much more to this Gaelic land. It's telling that all our journeys start and end in Edinburgh, where historic landmarks rub shoulders with cutting-edge contemporary attractions.

Scotland's storied past is set against its dramatic landscapes and magnificent architecture. Explore Glamis Castle, the late Queen Mother's childhood home and one of Britain's most haunted dwellings. Traverse the Forth Bridge, once the world's largest and longest of its kind. Journey across the Glenfinnan Viaduct, the spellbinding backdrop for the Hogwarts Express of Harry Potter fame, and visit a village where Bonnie Prince Charlie raised his standard in the 1745 Jacobite Rising.

Alight for thrilling excursions. Spot wild seals in the sea at picturesque Plockton, try your hand at clay-pigeon shooting in the Cairngorms or hike the Rothiemurchus Estate. Naturally, you'll want to sample malts in the Glen Ord Distillery, one of the oldest in Scotland, founded in 1838.

Belmond Royal Scotsman is a unique way to explore this beguiling country, knowing that a luxurious retreat is never far away. Prepare for an adventure.

I rove, the hills of the Highlands forever I love.”

CHAPTER TWO

Life On Board

As iconic as having afternoon tea at The Ritz or strolling along the Seine with your lover, taking our train is one of those pinch-me experiences

Rail travel is one of the best ways to discover a country, and nowhere is this more true than in Scotland. Running since 1985, Belmond Royal Scotsman ranks among the world's iconic trains. Coupling Edwardian elegance with the comforts of a stately country manor house, it's a palace on wheels. A red carpet and champagne reception welcomes its 40 guests. With 12 members of staff, both personal attention and intimacy are guaranteed; you are part of our family. Fine dining and beverages are included in your fare and the train stables each night so restful sleep is guaranteed. Everyday worries melt away as the good times abound.

With detailed marquetry, plush beds and furnishings of soft Scottish wools and tartans, our private ensuite cabins have been made with you in mind. They provide an idyllic retreat after a day exploring. Our Observation Car is the train's social hub. It's all plush lounge chairs, conviviality and drinks – the bar carries some 60 types of whisky. Head to the open deck for fresh Highland air and panoramas.

A morning of excursions calls for a relaxing session in our Bamford Haybarn Spa. Dine on skilfully prepared, seasonal produce before enjoying local entertainment over a nightcap. Stories are shared and songs chorused among merry passengers.

Your Carriage Awaits

THE CABINS

Our Edwardian-style cabins, fitted with mahogany marquetry, provide a cosy yet opulent haven in which to retire. Belmond Royal Scotsman has four single, 15 twin and three double cabins available including an interconnecting cabin, which is adaptable for passengers with restricted mobility. All cabins are equipped with an en-suite shower room, a wardrobe, a desk and a picture window from which to savour the unfolding Scottish countryside.

DINING

Your journey will be punctuated by sumptuous fine dining in our two beautiful wood-panelled Restaurant Cars, Raven and Swift. The cuisine is prepared to world-class standard by our chefs in the onboard kitchen, with menus featuring local, seasonal ingredients such as scallops from the Kyle of Lochalsh, Aberdeen Angus beef and Inverawe smoked salmon. A range of fine wines, liqueurs and malt whiskies from our extensive cellar make for the perfect accompaniment.

DRESS CODE

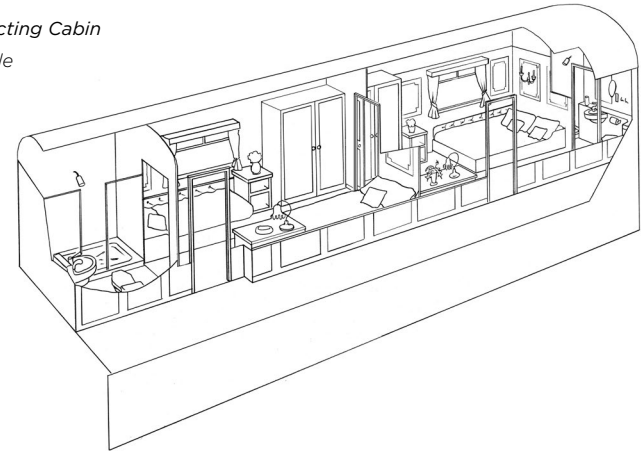

Dinners vary between informal and formal events, the latter of which are elegant, candlelit affairs. For these occasions, guests often choose to dress in their finest outfits. Ladies might wear cocktail dresses while men often opt for tuxedos or, fittingly, a kilt. During informal dinners, we recommend that gentlemen wear a jacket.

KILT HIRE

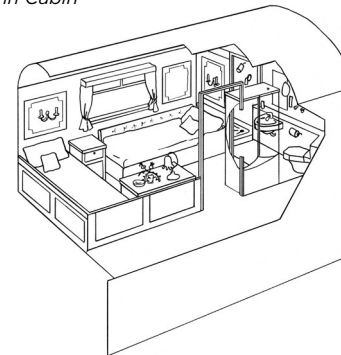

Get into the spirit of your adventure and rent out a kilt. We have a long association with Kinloch Anderson, Edinburgh-based kiltmakers to HM The Queen. To look the part, take advantage of its premium Kilt Hire service and select distinguished tartan attire to wear on board. Alternatively, as a wonderful memento of your journey, purchase a bespoke Highland Dress outfit.

For details, contact Kinloch Anderson on +44 (0)131 555 1390 or email theshop@kinlochanderson.com.

Relaxation on the Rails

BAMFORD HAYBARN SPA

Retreat to our airy, wood-clad Bamford Haybarn Spa car, a truly unique pampering experience. It's the perfect treat after a day spent exploring the Highlands. The idyll is the result of Belmond's pioneering partnership with artisanal British brand Bamford. Within the two treatment rooms, the design brings together sustainable wood from Scotland and the Cotswolds, creating a true haven of peace.

Unwind with botanically inspired holistic treatments that connect mind, body and soul as the drama of the Scottish landscape unfolds outside. Choose from the rejuvenating Bamford Bespoke Facial, a de-stressing deep-tissue massage or spruce up with a pedicure.

The Journeys

Our adventures take place between April and October and feature Scotland's scenic highlights, including the Cairngorms, the rugged west coast and the picturesque Plockton. Discover a land of soaring peaks and deep valleys, glassy lochs and looming castles. Enjoy a tasting in a famed distillery, then enter the forest for a clay pigeon shoot. As night falls, mingle with fellow guests over candlelit dinners and spirited ceilidhs.

From heraldic shields to sweeping landscapes, the thistle appears at every twist and turn of a journey through the Highlands. A symbol of Scotland since the 13th century, it was the perfect choice to pattern this cover. Inside, a rich, royal purple conjures heather-covered glens and distant mountains. A favourite shade of traditional textiles – and featured in this train's own bespoke tartan – it is truly woven into Scotland's story.
